

Vs1

Hold on for dear life,
'Till your knuckles turn white.
You know paper boats don't quite sail.

And the seabirds they cry,
In the tiptoeing tide.
How I wish that I could save you
From the belly of this whale.

Ch1

Can you tell me the difference,
Because I don't know,
Between caution and fear?

And my broken heart floats
On a paper boat
Between the horizon and here.

Vs2

I will try not to sink
Straight into the brink.
You took the rocks in my pockets out.

And fear is contagious,
So I'll be courageous.
Hold onto me darling,
Don't let me drown.

Ch2

Would you be my lighthouse,
Whenever I can't see,
My way to the shore?

Until it gets light out,
Would you be a guide for me,
Until I can't sail anymore?

Vs 3

Anchor my plans
Straight into the sand,
Because I feel like I might float away.

And there are no guarantees,
So don't set me free.
Because I might never be okay again.

Ch3

But every sunset that I see
From beside you
Is a coming night I cannot fear.

And my broken heart floats
On a paper boat
Between the horizon and here.

Ch1

Can you tell me the difference,
Because I don't know,
Between caution and fear?

(x2) And my broken heart floats
On a paper boat
Between the horizon and here.
